NMD, Inc. Takes an Environmental Leadership Position by Offsetting its Carbon Footprint

Slidell, LA, September 1, 2009 – NMD, Inc. / NMDesigns.com today announced that it is offsetting its carbon emissions with Carbonfund.org, the leading nonprofit carbon offset and climate solutions organization. By joining Carbonfund.org's CarbonFree® Partner program NMDesigns has joined a national movement of businesses and organizations that are leading the fight to against global warming.

Carbonfund.org's CarbonFree® Partner program supports third-party validated renewable energy, energy efficiency, and reforestation projects in the U.S. and abroad to reduce CO² pollution and help hasten our transition to a clean energy future.

NMD's new corporate facility will feature conscience design in order to reduce environmental impact and increase productivity. Some of the feature highlights of this exciting new facility are Autoclaved Aerated Concrete Design, Passive Solar Design with Solar Panel Preparation, Geo-Thermal Heating and Cooling, Hot Water on Demand, Recycled Materials within Interiors, Rooftop Garden and Terrace, Water Retention and Drainage in a Natural Setting, over 2 acres of Native Species Landscaping, and Permeable Driveways and Parking Areas.

"NMD is supportive of green initiatives," states NMD President, Bondilyn Jolly, "From our green architectural design, recycling practices, carbon emission offsets and paperless products such as SystemEMerge.com, we feel it's important to not only reduce our corporate impact on the environment, but to also serve as a model to other businesses of effective and cost-efficient green practices."

Showcasing NMD's green philosophy is the release of eMerge, the latest product offering from NMD that offers easy, affordable and paperless email marketing for businesses and non-profit organizations. "Businesses and consumers alike appreciate thoughtful conscience marketing efforts," emphasizes NMD's Sales & Marketing Director, Natalie Guess. "SystemEMerge.com provides an environmentally conscious approach to communication that also provides proven return on investment."
